About the Academy

The Australian Maritime and Fisheries Academy (AMFA) with campuses at Port Adelaide and Port Lincoln in South Australia, provides a geographically central training base for State, national and international clients.

Through education and research, the Academy's graduates are a highly trained human resource which enables the seafood and maritime industries to meet the challenges of the future.

Our motto "Experientia Docet" (experience teaches) reflects our belief that practical experience has the power to motivate, educate and create positive results.

Regulatory Certificates of Competency

To ensure your eligibility for regulatory examination you must contact Commercial Marine Services, Department of Planning, Transport, and Infrastructure (DPTI) to have your pre-requisites, including sea time, assessed and be given approval of eligibility authority for examination. DPTI will charge you a fee for this service.

AMFA is not responsible for students who attend a course but are deemed ineligible by DPTI to sit the oral exam to obtain the regulatory Certificate of Competency from Commercial Marine Services. Contact CMS on (08) 8348 9506
